‘A riveting performance throughout with a perfect combination of musical ingenuity and creative storytelling with outstanding British Sign Language to support understanding for younger members of the audience as well as being inclusive for those who require it to access the story. Memorable and mesmerising.’

The Sleeping Seeds is a playful music theatre show for families. Two musical gardeners go on an adventure to raise a seedling and raise a racket. Rake & Roll!!

The Sleeping Seeds are musical gardeners who have a very special seed asleep in their seed bed. Join them as they nurture and encourage this little seed to mature and take its place in the world. Expect catchy songs, unusual instruments and fun joining in!

This is a relaxed inclusive performance for all ages. The show can be performed with integrated BSL (additional fees required for BSL performer/ interpreter).

The show explores themes of growing up, of feeling different or alone and finding a place in the world. The live music we weave into the show invites participation.

The artists Fox & Rocha combine their signature sounds of voice, harp, strings and bellows, alongside sounds with unusual instruments, including garden objects such as watering cans and trowels.

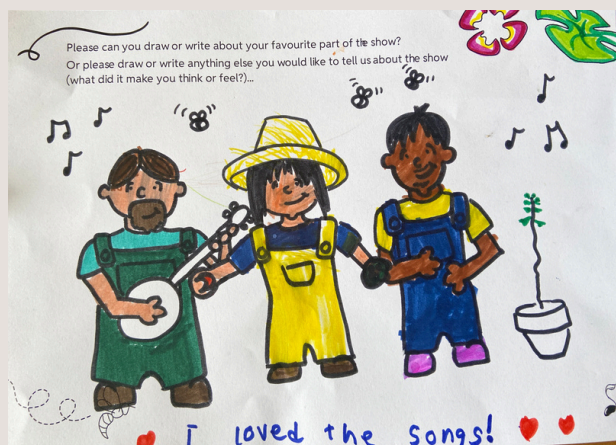

The show provides a range of opportunities to encourage further creative learning projects with children as a wraparound to the performance experience, including exploring gardening and nature, music making, and storytelling.

‘The combination of both storytelling and music was just magical all the way through, both myself and my 2-year-old were enthralled for the full show, Just brilliant!’
